Andrew Lessman's IMMUNE SYSTEM SUPPORT is a balanced blend of the nutrients and herbs most frequently consumed by those seeking to support the immune system. Immune System Support contains high levels of a standardized blend of both forms of the herb Echinacea (Purpurea and Angustifolia) along with the herb Goldenseal. These herbs have been used effectively for immune system support for centuries. We have also added a standardized extract of Astragalus, which has been used for centuries in Asia to support the immune system, along with our unique proprietary blend of organic standardized extracts of Shiitake, Maitake and Reishi mushrooms based upon their long history of traditional use to help support immune system function. Immune System Support also contains high levels of all the B-Complex vitamins and our unique non-acidic Vitamin C, since they are so easily depleted by stress and are essential to support optimum immune system function. These standardized herbal extracts and vital nutrients combine to deliver powerful support for your immune system.
